StopTheHacker

Every hosted website today is vulnerable to security threats

StopTheHacker detects and removes malware on your customers' websites and servers and makes sure a website isn't blacklisted by Google and other search engines.

Antivirus software detects less than 40% of web malware

StopTheHacker gets the rest

StopTheHacker scans customers' websites, providing visibility into infected code.

Offer StopTheHacker to your customers and grow sales, free up resources and increase retention.

Become a StopTheHacker partner:

- Grow sales with a new revenue stream
- Increase customer stickiness and reduce churn
- Lower support and infrastructure costs
- Scale to millions of customers with our cloud-based architecture
- Quickly implement into existing billing and provisioning systems

Funded by a $1M grant from the US National Science foundation, StopTheHacker is now part of CloudFlare, the website performance and security company.

"Since offering StopTheHacker to our customers, we've seen sales increase while support calls due to malware have decreased. It's a win-win solution."

—Richard Winslow, Head of Application Hosting, Host Europe Group
